

UPDATED INFORMATIVE DIGEST 27 CALIFORNIA CODE OF REGULATIONS

Effective June 18, 2008, Proposition 65 regulations have moved from Title 22 to Title 27, California Code of Regulations. The regulations which were previously located in Title 22, sections 12000 to 14000 inclusive, are now located in Title 27 of the California Code of Regulations, sections 25000 to 27001, inclusive. The new section of the subject regulation is now section 25705(b) of Title 27, California Code of Regulations (27 CCR, section 25705(b)).

In 1987, the original lead agency for implementation of Proposition 65 regulations was the Health and Welfare Agency. For this reason, the Proposition 65 regulations were placed in Title 22, together with other Health and Welfare Agency regulations. In 1991, Governor Wilson designated the Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment (OEHHA) as the lead agency for Proposition 65 implementation when OEHHA and its parent entity, the California Environmental Protection Agency (Cal/EPA), were established. The implementing regulations have now been moved to the Cal/EPA series in Title 27.

There have been no other changes in the laws related to the proposed regulations or to the effect of the proposed regulations from the laws and effects described in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking.
